Undocumented students face unique challenges when applying for college. Some colleges and universities view undocumented students as out-of-state or international students, and charge higher tuition rates than for other residents of Pennsylvania. Many scholarships and types of financial aid are not open to undocumented students. For many students, this means putting a hold on or ending to dreams of attending college.

PICC is committed to advocating for policy changes that will level the playing field, and allow undocumented students to qualify for the same tuition rates and local scholarships available to other residents of Pennsylvania. While we work to enact these policies, this toolkit contains tips and resources to help undocumented students navigate the sometimes complicated work of applying for college and financial aid.

DISCLAIMER: The information in this toolkit is based on personal experience of students, educators and members of PICC across Pennsylvania and has been compiled by our staff. We want this resource guide to be as comprehensive and useful as possible. We update this toolkit twice a year. If you know of any resources not listed in here or outdated, please let us know! Contact Maria Sotomayor at mariasotomayor@paimmigrant.org or 215-832-3482 if you have any feedback, suggestions, or edits.

Get involved! It is everyone's responsibility to continue pushing for access to education for ALL students regardless of immigration status. We encourage immigrant youth from all backgrounds to get involved! Share your stories and experiences, tell family and friends. Don't remain in silence. We will support you along the way. Teachers, school counselors and allies are also welcome! Be part of our movement and fight for education justice for all students of Pennsylvania.

This toolkit is divided into three sections:

- Scholarships and Financial Aid
- Admission and Financial Aid Policies at Pennsylvania Schools
- General and Community Resources
- Update of Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA)

Note to Institutions of Higher Education

Institutions of higher education should continue to fight back and support ALL students regardless of immigration status. If you are a university that supports undocumented students and don't see your information in this toolkit or your information is not up to date, please contact Maria Sotomayor at mariasotomayor@paimmigrant.org.

Admission and Financial Aid Policies at Pennsylvania Schools

CCS- The CSS/Financial Aid PROFILE (often written as CSS PROFILE), short for the College Scholarship Service Profile, is an application distributed by the College Board in the United States allowing college students to apply for financial aid. It is primarily designed to give private member institutions of the College Board a closer look into the finances of a student and family. It is much more detailed than the FAFSA.

- The CSS Profile asks questions about the financial status of the student and the student's parents. The information the student gives in the CSS Profile is then sent to colleges or universities that the student specifies.
- Along with the FAFSA, the CSS Profile is the most common financial aid application that students in the United States fill out.
- Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education (PASSHE)- 14 Universities that make up the PASSHE system provide in-state tuition rates to anyone who has been “domiciled” in Pennsylvania.¹ “Domicile” is defined as “[t]he place where one intends to reside permanently or indefinitely and does in fact so reside.”² Under this policy, undocumented students may pay in-state tuition if they can provide clear and convincing evidence of having been “domiciled” in Pennsylvania.³

PASSHE Schools: Bloomsburg, Cheyney, East Stroudsburg, Indiana, Lock Haven, Millersville, Slippery Rock, California, Clarion, Edinboro, Kutztown, Mansfield, Shippensburg, West Chester

- Other Pennsylvania state schools may consider admitting undocumented students at in-state tuition rates but such practices are neither uniform nor part of an established policy.

Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA)

DACA is a procedure that allows certain non-citizens to stay in the US and work legally, without fear of deportation, for a period of 2 years. Those granted Deferred Action will be eligible for a work permit, social security card, and certain state ID's, such as a driver's license.

Deferred Action is NOT the Dream Act. It does not lead to permanent residency or a "green card."

Please be careful with public notaries (notarios) and unscrupulous lawyers.

IMPORTANT UPDATE: Only certain young people will be able to continue to renew DACA permits. No first time applications will be accepted at this time. Please visit our website to sign up for PICC's newsletter to receive the latest updates on DACA and other immigration policies.

Who can apply for DACA?

- Anyone who has previously been granted DACA is eligible to apply.

Please find a trusted legal service provider to determine if you qualify for renewal and apply immediately!
